Dear Friends

As we step into this new year together, I want to encourage you to remain faithful to the gospel of Jesus Christ—the good news that never fails and never fades. In February, when I come to be with you, I will bring an olive plant. My hope is that it will find a home somewhere in the church, quietly telling a story that speaks to our hearts.

The olive tree is a remarkable image of resilience and faithfulness. It grows through all kinds of weather—the fierce winds and the gentle breezes. It doesn't choose its seasons; it simply stands firm and grows. In the same way, God calls us to trust Him through the thick and thin of life. Whatever storms or sunshine we face, He knows what it is all about, and He is faithful.

Olive trees also remind us that fruitfulness takes time. Their fruit must lose its bitterness before it becomes useful—it takes washing, waiting, soaking, and salting. So too, God patiently works in us, shaping us through every season, even the hard ones, to bring forth hope and life.

And then there is the pressing—the times of pressure we never ask for, but which bring forth oil: light for the darkness, balm for the wounded, and joy that rises from places we didn't know still held life. This is the story of the gospel at work in us.

May this little olive plant remind us all that God is faithful, that He is with us in every moment, and that we can trust Him completely. Let us keep standing firm in Christ, rooted in His love, and bearing fruit for His kingdom.

With prayers and every blessing,
+ Saju Muthalaly
Bishop Loughborough

Confirmations

Thank you to Bishop Saju for his words of encouragement. He will be joining us on Sunday 1 February at 3 pm for a service of Confirmation, at St Michael's Church, Stoney Stanton

Everyone is warmly invited to this service when we will be welcoming three people who will be confirming their faith in Jesus Christ.

We also look forward to receiving the Olive Tree and nurturing it over the coming years.

Light refreshments will be served after the service.

Allan Chapman

There is to be a short 'Celebration of Allan's life' service on Saturday 28 February 11am at St. Michael's Church, Stoney Stanton. Tea and cake will be served at the church after the service for anyone wishing to stay.

If you have any memories of Allan that you would like to share during the service or you would like to say any words please let Lindsay or Graham know asap by email glchapman87@outlook.com or mobile/ text 07930907837.

There will be a collecting box for any donations in memory of Allan at the church which will be forwarded to The Brain Tumour Charity in remembrance of Louie Fray, Allan's grandson

Prayer Chain

Prayer Chain

Prayer Chain

Have you ever felt you would like someone to pray for you? Or maybe there is someone you know who needs prayers.

Help is at hand. The Prayer Chain is a group of people who regularly pray for people who are on the prayer chain list.

All requests are treated in confidence. It is up to you how much you want to tell the prayer chain about the request. It can simply be the first name of the person.

I would ask you to check that the person you are requesting is OK about being on the prayer chain.

Each request is prayed for, from the date of the request, for 1 month. If you want prayers to continue after that month you need to make another request.

Please contact Jackie March with your request on bacsprayerchain@gmail.com .

You don't have to be a member of the Church to use the Prayer chain.

It hurts

A little girl told her mother one day before lunch that her stomach was hurting. Her mother replied: "That's because it's empty, you have to put something into it!"

That evening the minister and his wife came for dinner. The minister looked a bit rough and explained that his head was hurting him. The little girl gave him a sweet smile and said encouragingly: "That's because it's empty, you have to put something into it!"

God made us

A little girl sitting on her grandfather's lap reached up to touch his wrinkled cheek. "Grandpa, did God make you?"

"Yes, sweetheart," he answered, "God made me a long time ago."

"Oh," she paused. "Grandpa, did God make me too?" Her grandfather assured her that He had. Feeling his wrinkled cheek again, she observed, "God's getting better at it, isn't He?"

Post-Valentine

A man confided to his friend that he and his wife had had a serious argument the night before. "It finally ended," he said, "when she came crawling to me on her hands and knees."

"What did she say?" asked the friend, amazed.

The husband replied, "She said, 'Come out from under that bed, you coward!'"

Norfolk – At Last!

Well, we finally made it! So, greetings from snowy Norfolk. It took us two years and two days, buying our third house, after recalcitrant chain problems and my second brush with cancer. You could say we were nothing if not determined through quite a testing time.

We were keen not to buy on the rebound and end up with a disappointing new home as a result of desperate compromise. However, God was faithful, and we find ourselves living in a beautiful house in a charming village, Beetley, close to the market town of Dereham, bang in the centre of the county. Beetley is small, with some 3,000 souls, deeply rural with no street lamps and oil fired central heating. You take your torch when you go out at night.

We have been made instantly, and warmly welcome, by both neighbours and church. On our first foray to Beetley church, we doubled the congregation! So, we headed for the next village, and St Mary's, Gressenhall, with a congregation of forty or so, a lovely vicar, Julia, who needless to say, covers a number of churches, and who has been responsible for building up such a lively and active congregation. St Mary's has a large, enthusiastic and gorgeous choir, The Gressenhall Singers, led by Jane, who formerly sang professionally in the West End shows. We are being pressed to join, while protesting our amateurishness. But Jane says all she asks for is enthusiasm and commitment.

St Mary's and the pub, the White Swan, are the backbone of Gressenhall's warm community spirit. I have joined the Tuesday Knit and Natter group, a bunch of ladies who truly care for one another and made me instantly at home. Mike has joined Dereham photo Club, and I am looking for a painting class, or volunteering at the National Trust's Felbrigg Hall

We so love being in our beautiful home and in glorious, peaceful Norfolk. It has been so worth the wait and the nail-biting stress of the move. We now look forward to exploring community and friendships,

Posada

Once again our Posada figures travelled around our three villages on their journey to Bethlehem. They visited our Churches, schools, homes, offices, went on day trips out and looked at the Christmas lights. They even met up with a group of midwives, who were all happy with Mary's progress and agreed that she was due to give birth on 25 December!

St Mary's Winter Quiz 2025

Thank you to all those who entered the Winter Quiz. I had 27 sheets returned to me for marking. Of those, 13 people scored 100%. THE TEMPTATION OF JESUS

After Jesus was baptised in the River Jordan where did the Holy Spirit lead him to? v1

How many days was Jesus being tempted by the devil? v2

What did Jesus eat? v2

What did the devil tempt Jesus to turn a stone into? What did Jesus say? v3-4

What did the devil offer Jesus if He worshipped him? What did Jesus say? v7-8

What did the devil ask Jesus to do? What did Jesus say? v9

FIRST TEMPTATION THE DEVIL SAID:

"If you are God's Son order this stone to turn into bread."

JESUS REPLIED:

"Man shall not live on bread alone."

Read Deuteronomy 8:3

WE LEARN:

Read the Bible

Learn God's word.

SECOND TEMPTATION THE DEVIL SAID:

"I will give you power and wealth if you worship me."

JESUS REPLIED:

"Worship the Lord your God and serve only Him."

Read Deuteronomy 6:13

WE LEARN:

Put God first

Worship only Him.

‘Dancing to the heartbeat of God’

Do I detect a gentle, spring-like wind of change. A ‘still small voice’ beginning to blow through the Church of England? Two recent books make me wonder.

They are both by women, women in a position of authority in the church, something which would hardly have been dreamt of only a very few years ago. Both Bishops, one of them on the brink of becoming the most senior of bishops, as Archbishop-elect.

For Advent last year, Bishop Guli Frances-Dequani, the Bishop of Chelmsford, wrote a delightful, thoughtful book ‘Listening to the music of the soul’, but what was unusual about this was that, though primarily a reflection on the Magnificat, it was illustrated throughout by music, each chapter finishing with a QR code, which, when scanned with a smart-phone gave a link to some quite wonderful music to illustrate what had gone before. One, exquisitely beautiful piece, had been written by her brother, prior to his cruel murder in Iran. It was a very modern, yet, in its way, timeless approach.

But now Lent is almost upon us and we are gifted with another book, again, very different to what we have been used to. This new book’s title echoes the one chosen for Bishop Guli’s Advent book, but at the same time is quite individually different.

‘Dancing to the heartbeat of God’ is unique in the long series of Archbishop of Canterbury’s Lent books. Bishop Sarah Mullally will not be installed as Archbishop of Canterbury until Lady Day, March 25th, but she has worked with her publisher at SPCK to produce a challenging and unusual book, as a Lenten companion.

It has been the custom for the incumbent Archbishop of Canterbury to commission a favourite writer to produce a Lent book, something which has happened year on year. This year is a little different. There are no fewer than 30 contributors to this book, voices from the Anglican Communion throughout the world, each a singular voice, telling their own stories and giving fresh insights daily, some of which may challenge, all of which will be food for thought.

It is refreshing to experience the power of the new coming from women who are bringing their own experience to bear upon the Christian Church of today, the one who arrived here as a young refugee, fleeing a murderous regime,

These are quiet, very personal actions, the gift of books for us to digest in solitude, maybe discuss with friends, without the razzmatazz that seems to be 'associated' with the needs of people today.

They will challenge, but also led us forward hopefully and thoughtfully as we journey on in faith.

Both books are available from all good booksellers.

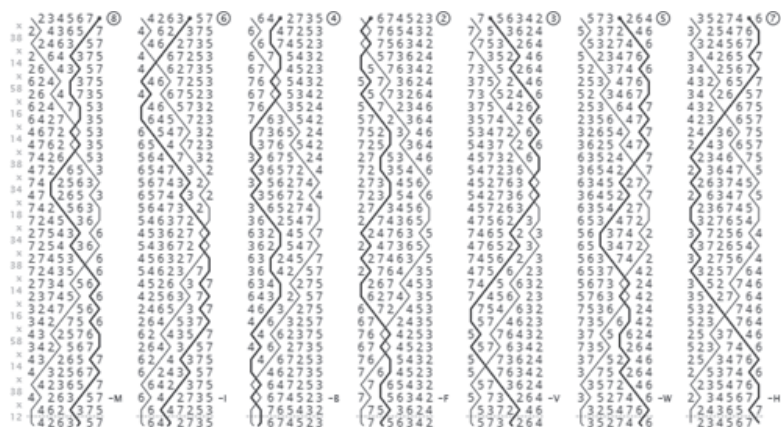

There is 'Method' in their madness

(or something like that)

On Saturday 6 December a group of 8 Ringers from The Leicestershire Diocesan Guild, set out to ring 8 'Quarter Peals' in 8 different 'Methods' in 8 different towers across our corner of Leicestershire.

For the uninitiated a 'Quarter Peal' means approximately 45 minutes of continuous ringing and 1260 different lines of pattern, and therefore 1260 strokes of each bell Different methods use different patterns and all the patterns need to be remembered – That equates to each bell (and bell-ringer) making 10,080 bell strokes in the right place, at the right time – like learning 10,080 lines of computer code

Here is just a little sample of the method called 'Rutland'

The madcap day was organized by 14 year old Tessa Preston who was completing the challenge as a step on her route to a Duke of Edinburgh's Award, and she was ably assisted by a band of ringers from Sapcote, Narborough, Earl Shilton, Ratby, Stoney Stanton, and Loughborough.

Here is their

The day went like clockwork, with Ringers zipping from tower to tower, and even granted them a break for lunch.

The day finished at 8.00pm at Stoney Stanton where the weary but triumphant band posed for the 'photo below.

Congratulations to all who took part, and 'Well done' to Tessa for setting everything up and keeping them all in line

Croft Lunches

The Saturday Lunches team at Croft have made the difficult decision that the December Christmas Lunch was their final one. They would like to thank all those who came over the years, for their support. It has been a pleasure to provide a hot meal and a place for people to meet friends.

They have now started a new venture of a weekly coffee morning on Tuesdays, 9:30—11:30 where folk will still have a place to meet regularly with friends and family

All are welcome.

And a big thank you to the team at Croft for all the lovely lunches they have provided over the years.

In earlier editions of this magazine we have highlighted the ringing by young people in the district.

If anyone (of any age) is interested in Bell Ringing, please contact our ringing master, Margie, 01455 282429, for further information.

Well done to all involved in these peals! It is always a joy to hear the bells ringing, a quintessential part of villages fortunate enough to have a Church with a peal of bells.

Bellringing at St Michael's, Stoney Stanton

We are fortunate enough to have a very keen band of ringers at St Michael's and in the local area.

We also often have visiting ringers to our tower. You will have read earlier about Tessa's challenge, and below is another special peal that was rung at the end of December.

Claire's Peal

On a Saturday in late December a band of ringers assembled at Stoney Stanton, to ring a quarter peal to celebrate Claire's significant birthday earlier that month.

Claire also rang with her husband, and her oldest son, Joseph. Joseph has learnt to ring over the last three years as part of his Scouts personal challenge badge and also his Duke of Edinburgh scheme skill section.

The quarter in December was Joseph's first quarter peal and he rang an inside bell to the method (plain bob major) which is a significant milestone and achievement.

Congratulations to them both on their milestone and achievement.

Thinking about Prayer.....

'Arrow prayers'

The picture of a paper dart, just like the ones we used to make as children, flushed across the screen and a message flashed up, telling me that my latest credit card bill was paid. Another job done!!!!!!

But this electronic picture always, for me, brings to mind the importance of something we may do day, by day as life presents its problems and we have to face them full on! All too often we cannot face such problems unsupported, and we, sometimes quite casually invoke God's help.

Casting my eye along the books on my shelves, I note that several of them bear the titles of these kinds of exclamations..... 'Oh God, whatever next?' (the autobiography of Hugh Montefiore) and at least two by Gerard Hughes, 'Oh God, why?' and 'God, where are you?' And I think to myself, 'well, if these godly people are given to such pleas, maybe there is some hope for me?'

Alongside the excellent teaching we received as young people, on the discipline of daily prayer, we were also made aware of the value of these little outbursts of prayer, 'arrow' prayers, a bringing to consciousness of God's presence in our daily lives, arrows indeed, straight and simple, arising from our daily need for help as we go about living our lives. And, thinking about it, the paper dart, on which we may write our deepest needs, is particularly appropriate!

So, do they have any effect? Well, the cynic might say, they serve to let off steam! However, another image springs to mind.

At Epiphany I watched a Eucharist online from one of our local churches. As the priest and server wafted incense around the Altar, the sun, streaming through the windows, caught the smoke, and the whole seemed enveloped in a dense, perfumed golden cloud, which totally obscured the ministers and the server. That dense cloud was made of tiny particles, seeming to me like as the many, many little pleas directed towards God at any one time enveloping our Creator in the desperate exclamations of humanity. 'Let my prayer rise before you as incense'. (Psalm 141)

Arrow prayers reassure us of God's presence, and it is strange how things often work out 'for the good of them that love God' - perhaps not instantly, but certainly in the long term.

Then we need to be mindful of their counterpart. Just two words, not this time a desperate petition, but a grateful response - 'Thank you'.
